Iowa Professor Prophecies a Descent of Locusts on the Western Crop

(Special to the Bulletin)

Sioux City, Iowa, July 16.—Within a few weeks the farmers of the Northwest will see their fields devastated by millions of locusts, the curse of Moses and the elders. This is the prediction of Prof. E. Willis Marshall of Sioux City. According to Prof. Marshall, the 17-year locusts are due this year, and if his records are correct and the locusts are on schedule time the Northwest will see on schedule time the North-west wind will sweep over the corn-fields of Iowa and Nebraska and the wheat fields of Minneapolis and Canada during August and September and will bring from the Northwest millions of locusts. Prof. Marshall also asserts the 13-year species are due this summer, a fact which makes scientists stand up and take notice, as such a coincidence happens only once in 200 years.

CALGARY TEAM EXPECTED

The last bunch of ball-throwers from the southern ranches, who visited the Capital during Exhibition week, are expected to pay the city another visit this week, and put up a game with the Edmonton team on Friday evening. It is not yet definitely known whether the team will come.

BOYS HAD PLEASANT TRIP

The Edmonton ball team returned from the south yesterday afternoon. They had a pleasant visit in the south country, they say, and were well looked after. The boys made a good showing, holding Calgary down to two tie games, and defeating them once. Howard proved a star in the pitcher's box, and had good support from Dolson.

ARROWHEAD HAD BAD SCORCHING

Business Section Was Ruined by Flames on Thursday Last

(Special to the Bulletin)

Winnipeg, July 16.—The principal business portion of Arrowhead, 24 C., was wiped out by fire on July 12th, according to belated dispatches. The Lake View Hotel, owned by Dr. Dalgleish and Duncan Cameron, was saved, also two big mills. The Arrowhead Lumber Co. is owned by the Thomas Meredith Syndicate, and the Big Bear mill is owned by Mr. Lindgate. The dispatch reads: "The business section of Arrowhead was wiped out by fire, loss $50,000. The buildings destroyed were Reid & Young's store, C. B. Sime's store, George Chapman's cigar store, Union Hotel, City hotel, residences of H. Stevens and of Mrs. Kerr."

NAMAO CEMENT WALKS

The promised removal of the sidewalk and rubbish on Namayo avenue did not take place this morning to the disappointment of the residents, who declare the almost impassable condition of the street is driving trade and traffic away.

According to the city engineer's statement today the cause of delay is that the contractor cannot make any satisfactory progress in completing the sidewalk until the catch basins are installed. This work is in the city's hands, and it is hoped will be completed at once.

It seems, however, that both the city and the contractor are responsible for the delay. The contractor was given two weeks in a vain attempt to obtain a suitable quality of sand at Fort Saskatchewan, which should have given the city additional time to have all the preparation work completed to facilitate the contractor with his contract.

NEWSPAPER MEN EN ROUTE WEST

Washington Correspondents Again Touring Canada

(Special to the Bulletin)

Those who remember the visit of the Washington correspondents of the American newspapers two years ago will be specially interested in the coming visit of the correspondents who are to be brought here as the guests of the Western Canadian Immigration Association with the co-operation of the railway companies and Boards of Trade.

The party left Washington on July 12, travelling by Buffalo to Toronto and Montreal. They left Montreal on the western tour on Saturday, July 14th, and arrived in Winnipeg today at 5.30. Tomorrow, July 18th, the party leave Winnipeg by the C. N. R. and travel to Warman, where they are scheduled to arrive at 9.00 Thursday morning. Leaving Warman they go to Saskatoon and Prince Albert, then back to Warman again, making a short stay at Roathorn on Saturday. From Warman the party come through to Edmonton arriving at the C. N. R. station at 1.45 on Sunday.

After spending the day here they leave by the C. P. R. at 10.00 o'clock for Calgary and Banff. From Banff, the Pacific coast is the next point of interest for them. Returning they make stops at Revelstoke, Glacier, Laggan, Medicine Hat, Moose Jaw and Regina, from which place they return to Washington by Toronto and Buffalo.

The trip will occupy from July 12th, to August 6th.

The names of those comprising the party are:

Irving C. Inwood, Washington Star, North American.

Thomas J. Pense, Raleigh News and Observer.

Edward G. Lowry, New York Evening Post.

Richard H. Lindsay, Kansas City Star.

D. Hastings McAdam, The St. Louis Republic.

IMMIGRATION RUSH IS OVER

Business at the Immigration office is rather slack these days. The big spring rush is over, and things will be quiet for a few months until the fall rush commences.

On Saturday five Galician families arrived in the city over the C.N.R. and put up at the immigration hall. They were in search of some friends who had located in the country previously. Upon inquiry the new-comers discovered that their acquaintances had settled at Vegreville, to which place they returned on Saturday evening.

DRINK CAUSED THE CRIME

Windsor Murderer Protests That He Did Not Mean to Kill His Wife

(Special to the Bulletin)

Windsor, Ont., July 16.—Christopher Spindelman, who killed his wife on Saturday is now more composed, having recovered from his delirium. He says he never intended to kill his wife but bought the revolver to frighten his son. He and his wife had trouble over the title of the cottage in which they lived. The deed at first was in his wife's name, but she transferred it to the son, William. Spindelman claims that he believed that they were trying to get possession of the place and drive him out. He says drink was the cause of all his troubles.

C.N.R. CAPTURES PR. ALBERT LINE

New Road Secures Control of Regina and Prince Albert Line

(Special to the Bulletin)

Winnipeg, July 16.—The Canadian Northern has practically completed negotiations with bond holders of Qu'Appelle, Long Lake and Saskatchewan Railway, by which it is to take over the road, commonly known as the Prince Albert branch of the C.P.R. The C.P.R.'s lease runs out this year and it has been known for some time that efforts have been made by both the Canadian Northern and Great Northern to obtain control of the line. The Great Northern held an option on the road, but allowed it to expire. The C.P.R. apparently was not particularly anxious to secure the road so the Canadian Northern opened negotiations with the bond holders and have made arrangements for its operation. The line is in bad shape and it needs almost to be rebuilt to make it safe for heavy and fast traffic.

BATTING AVERAGES

Sporting Editor Bulletin:
Dear Sir:—For the benefit of the "knocker" who so kindly figured the batting averages of the Edmonton team on a recent trip to Calgary, I have taken the trouble to figure the averages of the team on their last trip and append a list:

Names.	G.	A.	B.	P.	C.
Wiley	4	16	8	0	000
Dolson, F.	5	14	6	4	29
Gleason	4	15	5	5	33
Winchester	4	13	5	3	307
Howard	4	13	4	3	307
Geazell	4	13	2	1	132
Vining	4	14	2	1	112
Bradley	2	8	1	1	125
Dolson, H.	3	11	1	0	090
Grady	0	8	0	0	090

Total 125 33
Team average exclusive of Bradley, who left the team in Calgary, 273.
The average of the Calgary team for the same series was 245.
The fielding average of the Calgary team was .914.

The fielding average of the Edmonton team was .902.

The Edmonton team evidently lost on their fielding which was no doubt caused by the unavoidable changing of the positions of the players.

MOSCOW FACES SERIOUS FAMINE

Bakers on Strike and the Populace Hungry—Odessa Fleet Mutinous

(Special to the Bulletin)

Moscow, July 16.—As the result of a strike which has been in progress in this city some time and which extends to all the bake shops in the city the inhabitants of Moscow are facing a serious famine. In none of the bakeries has any bread been produced and the supply is low. So serious is the condition that the prefect has arrested all the leaders of the strikers and threatens to arrest all bakers who do not go to work by Tuesday night.

Odessa, July 16.—The crews of the Black Sea fleet are again threatening a general mutiny and were it not for the fact that the breach blocks have been removed from nearly every one of the guns in the ships, it is hardly likely an outbreak could be prevented. The men on two battleships Monday declined to perform their ordinary duties and sang revolutionary songs for hours. They had a mass meeting on deck and cheered for "the enemies of the Czar." The conditions are serious and trouble is anticipated.

TEMPERATURE RECORD

Winnipeg, July 17.—Fine warm weather has prevailed from Manitoba to B. C. One or two light showers are reported in eastern Manitoba. This morning it was raining in Red Deer, Alberta. At all other points in all the western provinces it is clear and warm.

RIFLEMAN LOSE THEIR RANGES

The rifle ranges on the south side of the river which have been in use for some time by the Edmonton Rifle Association are to be closed up. A new range has been surveyed across the butte and the nature of the ground not permitting a practicable diversion, it will necessitate the closing of the range. After today shooting will be discontinued over the ranges. Negotiations are now underway for a new and more up-to-date range, which it is expected will be produced in a short time.

Pincher Creek Echo.—On Tuesday last week a sad accident occurred at the crossing on the South Fork up near the Butte ranch by which a young man named Ora Eddy lost his life.

MURDER BY POISONING

Jury in Winnipeg Case Hold Todd Guilty for Death of Georgina Birou

Birou

(Special to the Bulletin)

Winnipeg, July 16.—"We, the coroner's jury believe that Georgina Birou was poisoned in room 39 of the Imperial hotel, July 10, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., and we believe that H. Wilson Todd was guilty of causing her death," was the verdict given tonight on the body of the Birou woman. The evidence given at the inquest didn't clear away much of the mystery for why the dose of carbolic acid was administered to the woman still remains unexplained. The post mortem revealed the fact that she was encephalic and evidence indicates that Todd was about to perform an abortion but how or why she took or was given carbolic acid is not disclosed by the depositions. By the discovery of carbolic acid in the stomach of the body the jury holds that he was guilty of her death.

News From the Landing

Athabasca Landing, July 17.—The steamer Midnight Sun arrived yesterday evening from Lesser Slave river. She is now loading for Pelican Rapids and will leave for there this afternoon.

Mr. Perron, of the firm of Hebert & Perron, of St. Albert, is in town looking after his business interests here.

J. K. Crunwall left for Chipewyan, Monday, accompanied by Mr. McBeth, who goes down to that place to take the census in North Saskatchewan.

Quite a few settlers are here on their way to Peace River with a view of settling there.

The mail left yesterday for Lesser Slave and Peace River Crossing.

AN ARMY NEEDED FOR HARVEST

Western Crop Will Require Many More Harvest Hands Than in Former Years

(Special to the Bulletin)

Winnipeg, July 16.—"Manitoba and the Northwest will require 25,000 imported harvesters to handle the crop this year," said W. J. Black, deputy minister of agriculture today. "Official reports from all parts of the province indicate that the crop will be the heaviest yet harvested. Last year Manitoba placed 12,500 men from the east in the fields while Saskatchewan used 2,500 but for this year Manitoba alone will require 20,000. Harvesting will be general throughout this Province by August 10th, should the rains continue it will probably be four or five days later." There is a growing anxiety among western farmers that these men will not be available as the Ontario harvest is away short of men and cannot spare any for the west and as Ontario harvest will be late and Manitoba harvest early it will necessitate the Ontario harvest hands staying at home to look after their own crop. The question is now anxiously asked, "Where will the west get its men?"

WANT THE CHINESE DEPORTED

(Special to the Bulletin)

Pretoria, July 16.—Sir Richard Solomon, Lieutenant-General, has replied to the letter in which Gen. Botha stated that, unless there was no recurrence of such outrages as the recent cases of dynamiting or attempted dynamiting of farmsteads by Chinese coolies was assured, a deputation would proceed to England to urge the government immediately to repatriate the Chinese.

CALLS NAMES LIKE A KID

An article in the Journal on the Vermilion election bears the ear marks of true Tory journalism, patterned after the Mail and Empire. The Conservative party finds itself in its helpless and hopeless condition on account of the weaknesses of its leaders and the glancing methods of its newspapers. Because a bye-election has been held promptly upon the resignation of the member for Vermilion the Journal must needs have a fit of colic and talk about "pettifoggish politicians" and the degeneracy of the Liberal party. If that paper would take the trouble to get in touch with public opinion, it would have known that the Conservative party in Vermilion knew of the approaching vacancy in that constituency for weeks and that they decided to call a convention, that Mr. Arthur Moodie, a leading Conservative, travelled from Beaver Lake to Vegreville to assure Mr. Holden that Mr. Frank Fane and other Conservatives favored his (Holden's) election by acclamation. It would have known that practically every citizen in Vermilion wanted the bye-election called on at once so that a member could be chosen to look after the interests of the riding. Bye-elections are held under the election law of the province and the time between the issuing of the writ and the date of the election is fixed by law; the Tory sheet should know this.

One choice remark of the Journal is "A political dead-end is pretty certain of election." Those who know Mr. Holden know that he is easily the equal of the writer of this slander either morally, politically or in the payment of his debts. It was to be expected that the Journal would be angry at the inertia of its party, but this is no excuse for the cowardly personal abuse of a young man who stands so high in the estimation of his neighbors that no one cares to oppose his unanimous election.

The Journal's insinuations against Premier Rutherford, and its talk of his "boasting" and "self-laudation" are unworthy of any decent newspaper. Every citizen who knows Alberta's premier knows him to be one of the province's most unassuming citizens, a man whose honor is unimpaired and against whom the silly slanders of the Journal will accomplish nothing but that newspaper's own discredit. Few men are more devoted to the best service of their country than our provincial premier, and in his quiet, unostentatious way, he is making a name for himself and his government. There was nothing for the administration to fear in a constituency where the Opposition candidate lost his deposit last November, so they called the bye-election on at once.

The broad spirit of the Canadian West, of which the Journal speaks, has not lately expressed much appreciation of the Journal's politics, and that paper's present tactics are not likely to help the situation.

DELAYED SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION

Three weeks ago the plank walks along both sides of Nampa avenue for many blocks were torn up preparatory to laying concrete walks. As yet not a foot of concrete walk has been laid on either side of the street, and so far as the actual cement work is concerned the walks are not a day's work nearer completion than they were three weeks ago. Along the west side of the avenue and for some distance on the east side the gravel foundation for the walks has been put in but not a bucketful of cement has been put in either walk. With a reasonably strong force the plank walks could have been removed, the trenches prepared and the gravel dumped in a week. On this portion of the work there has been a delay of a clear fortnight and this delay does not shorten by an hour the time still necessary to lay the cement and to allow it to harden.

Some time since the Bulletin drew attention to the inconvenience suffered by residents along the street from having both walks torn up at the same time and the damage to the business interests of the community by the already narrow driveway being blocked by the debris from the two walks. The delay has protracted the inconvenience to residents and multiplied the injury to the business interests by the continued diversion of traffic from this usually busy thoroughfare. That the plank walks are to be replaced during the still further delay necessary is a concession under the circumstances but why were they not replaced ten days ago? Or better still, why were not the conditions avoided which makes their temporary replacement and a second removal necessary?

Two causes are given for the delay, the difficulty of securing sand and the scarcity of labor. The causes given are doubtless correct but have they only now become apparent? Was the difficulty of securing sand and the scarcity of labor not as well understood a fortnight since as now? If so, why was the contractor allowed to undertake more than he had any reasonable chance of accomplishing without unreasonable delay and unnecessary inconvenience to the public?

The moral of the incident is that cement walk on one side only of a street should be undertaken at a time. Had one of the plank walks along Nampa been left intact the public would have suffered comparatively little inconvenience and the business interests of the avenue comparatively little damage even from the protracted delay. The walks are now to be replaced during a further unavoidable delay. When he again begins work the contractor should be required to leave the plank walk along one side of the street intact until the concrete walk on the opposite side is completed. And from the unpleasant experience of the residents on the avenue the council should deduce a general resolution which will prevent similar unfortunate situations in future when plank walks are being replaced by cement.

How Canada Regulates Its Railways

By A. C. Killam, Chief Commissioner

Board of Railway Commissioners.

The Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada exercises authority over the railway companies which are subject to the jurisdiction of the general Parliament of Canada except Government Railways. We have a federal constitution under which a general Parliament exercises legislative authority over the whole Dominion of Canada, and provincial legislatures over the different provinces. In the division of legislative powers between these bodies, the Parliament of Canada is empowered to make laws upon the subject of railways connecting one province with another or extending beyond the limits of any province, and any others which are declared by the Parliament of Canada to be in the public interest for the general advantage of Canada, or for the advantage of one or more of the provinces.

Under this class of subjects the Parliament of Canada has incorporated many companies to build and operate railways and has authorized such building and operation usually by companies, but in some instances by the Government of Canada. It has also in many cases declared railways built under authority of the provincial legislatures to be works for the general advantage of Canada and has thereafter assumed legislative authority over them. Although the establishment of courts of civil and criminal jurisdiction and proceedings in civil matters are subjects of legislation by Provincial Legislatures, the Parliament of Canada has special power to provide for the establishment of additional courts for the better administration of the laws of Canada.

The Board of Railway Commissioners was constituted by the Railway Act of 1903, which came into force on February 1, 1904. The powers and duties assigned to the board are numerous, and of various character. Before building is begun, location plans must be approved by the board. Leave to cross highways or other railways must be given by the board, and the board must determine what precaution, if any, shall be taken at such crossings, and whether they shall be made grade or overhead or underneath. Lines or wires for telegraphs, telephones, for the conveyance of light, heat, power or electricity cannot be carried across railways without the leave of the board, which establishes the precautions to be observed. Before a railway is opened for traffic it must be inspected by an engineer, and its opening authorized by the board. Naturally the railway act deals with many details to be observed by railway companies. The board is empowered to make general regulations dealing with many matters with which the statute has not specifically dealt.

The board is authorized, by general provisions, to order a railway company to do anything required by statute, and to forbid the doing or continuing of anything contrary to statute. The board is made a court of record, and is given full jurisdiction to hear and determine all matters, whether of law or of fact, and, as respects the enforcement of its orders and other matters, it is given all such powers, rights and privileges as are vested in a superior court. The decision of the board upon any question of fact is binding and conclusive upon all companies or persons, and in all courts. There may be an appeal from an order of the board to the supreme court upon any question of law, under certain conditions. An unlimited right of appeal from the board to the Governor-General-in-Council is given. The board may exercise its jurisdiction on complaint of any party interested, or it may, of its own motion, and is obliged at the request of the Minister of Railways to inquire into, hear and determine any matter or anything which, under the act, it might inquire into, hear and determine upon application or complaint.

The rules of the board require applications to be made in writing and to be signed by the applicant or his solicitor, or in case of a corporate body or company, by its manager, secretary or solicitor. The application is required to contain a clear and concise statement of the facts, the grounds of the application, the section of the act under which the same is made, and the nature of the order applied for, or the relief or remedy to which the applicant claims to be entitled. It has to be divided into paragraphs, each of which as nearly as possible, is to be confined to a distinct portion of the subject, and the paragraphs are to be numbered consecutively. The application or complaint is to be endorsed with the name and address of the applicant, or, if the applicant is acting for him in the matter, with the name and address of the solicitor. In many cases it is required to be accompanied by maps, plans, etc. The applicant is to serve the application, and ten days are given for the respondent or respondents to answer it. The applicant may also reply to the answer. Any party is entitled to have a matter in which he is interested heard in open court, otherwise matters are frequently disposed of in an informal way by the board upon correspondence.

As the board has power to inquire into matters of its own motion, it is not strict in requiring applicants, and particularly illiterate persons to conform strictly to such rules but often calls upon a railway company, upon a mere oral or informal complaint to state its position.

Experts are appointed to advise the board chiefly in engineering and traffic matters and the board also has officials who inquire into accidents upon railways, and it is empowered to require railway companies to discharge employees responsible for accidents.

Tariffs of toll for passenger carriage are divided into two classes: standard passenger tariffs and special passenger tariffs. Tariffs of toll for the carriage of goods are divided into three classes: standard freight tariffs, special freight tariffs and competitive tariffs. All tariffs are required to be filed with the board, and are to be published in a certain manner, otherwise ordered by the board. Standard freight and passenger tariffs are subject to the approval of the board. Special tariffs and competitive tariffs do not require to express sanction of the board, but must specify tolls lower than those in standard tariff. The competitive tariffs deal with the tolls to or from specified points which the board may consider, or may have declared to the competitive points not subject to the long and short haul clause under the provisions of the act. The board may disallow any tariff, or any portion of it, which the board considers to be unjust or unreasonable, or contrary to the provisions of the act, and may require a company to substitute a tariff satisfactory to the board in lieu thereof, or may prescribe other tolls in lieu of those disallowed.

The classification of freight is subject to the approval of the board, and it is to be made uniform throughout Canada, as far as may be, having regard to all proper interests. A company, may with the approval of the board or when so directed by the board, place any goods specified by the board in a special class, or remove them from any one class to any higher or lower class. There are the usual provisions against discrimination between persons or localities, and railway companies are forbidden to charge any money for service as common carriers except under the provisions of the act.

There are also wide provisions regarding reasonable and proper facilities for traffic to be provided and requiring the interchange of traffic between railway companies whose railways connect may be required to agree upon joint tariffs for a continuous route over both, and if they cannot agree upon the terms of their rates and the division thereof, the board may determine the matters of difference.

The provisions requiring railway tolls to be approved and making them subject to revision by some authority, are not new. Such provisions have been found in all the railway acts of Canada from 1851 down to the present time. Before the act of 1897 the sanction of the Governor-General-in-Council was necessary and tolls were subject to revision by the Governor-in-Council. There was a committee of the Privy Council for Canada, known as the "Railway Committee," to which complaints and applications on many matters could be made, among which were complaints respecting tolls discrimination, etc. A certain time was given after the coming into force of the act, for railway companies to present their standard tariffs for approval by the board. Those which have been approved are practically similar to the tariffs that had previously been sanctioned by the Governor-in-Council. The tolls provided for by the tariffs are generally used for local traffic for short distances, but most commodities are moved at rates provided for by the special tariffs, which the railway companies may increase or decrease as they see fit, so long as they keep below the rates in the standard tariffs, and subject to the authority of the board to direct changes.

The following are some of the most important orders that the board has made since its inauguration upon the subject of rates, facilities, etc. An order requiring certain railway companies to abolish discriminatory and prohibitive rates which they had been in the habit of charging for years on cedar lumber, cedar ties, etc. in order to keep down prices for their own construction purposes and compelling them to make the rates uniform with those charged on other kinds of lumber, ties, etc. An order abolishing discrimination in rates on glass bottles from Wallaceburg, Ont. near Detroit, Mich., as compared with rates from United States points and applying the same rates as from Detroit. Prohibitive rates on coals shipped to Montreal, for export, were ordered to be reduced to the same as for coal to manufacturers than to dealers and ordinary customers was disallowed. Rates on metallic shingles, which railway companies had raised, were ordered to be restored to the former basis.

Export rates on cattle which had been higher from points in Ontario than from points in the western states were ordered to be lowered so as to be more in harmony with those paid by U.S. shippers. Railway companies were ordered to discontinue charging high rates on grain between local points than were charged on flour, etc. Rates on flour, etc. from points in Ontario to Montreal for export were lowered so as to be away with discrimination in favor of U.S. shippers from western states.

Rates on beans were lowered. The board determined that cartage allowances by carriers to offset disadvantages of location as between shippers, unless they are published in the regular tariffs and made general in their operation, should not be allowed. Railway companies have been compelled to enter into joint tariffs with connecting railways although the rate was calculated to introduce competition with the local business of one company.

The board took into consideration the question of what are known as car-service charge and the rules regulating them, and prescribed an entirely new set of rules, after hearing from boards of trade and other interests in all parts of Canada as well as the railway companies. The board also proposed under a special section of the act to prescribe forms of bills of lading, and the conditions on which goods shall be carried.

In some instances the board has directed railway companies whose railways connected with each other in or near a town to interchange traffic so that shippers having immediate connection with only one railway can have their goods transferred at the point of connection for the short haul, in some cases companies have been given authority to meet the competition of city

Western News

Cardston Star.—Mr. J. H. Van Peht has gone to the mountains to commence active operations for the Reid Mining, Milling and Smelting Company, with a view to developing the excellent copper prospects in this part of the Rockies. Mr. Van Peht will not come out of the mountains before late in September and by which time we expect to hear that he has struck it rich or than ever. Cabins are being built supplies have gone in, and everything is in readiness to push the work to the utmost.

Lethbridge News.—Lethbridge strawberries will yet be famed as the best grown anywhere and will command the highest price on the market. Mr. Sherlock, from a garden strip 15 yards long by a little over three yards wide will get 340 quarts this year. On a single plant 25 or 30 berries are found. Mr. Sherlock showed some of these to The News. They are about the size of a large crab apple, an inch to an inch and a half in diameter, and unlike the large berries grown in some other places there is no insipidity or any approach to it. On the contrary the flavor is exceptionally good. Lethbridge strawberries will command the top price on the market wherever they are sold.

Fernie Free Press.—A large party of surveyors from the east left Michel on Tuesday for the camps of the Imperial Coal and Coke company on the Elk river, ostensibly for the purpose of locating a grade for a railroad, and are thought the members of the crew are very reticent with information with regard to their movements, your correspondent gained the information that the main camp will be made at a point about 45 miles up the Elk river from Michel. The crew will be divided into two parties, one working down the stream to the junction of the Elk river and Michel creek, and the other party to work north across the mountains. The members of the party are all experienced railroad surveyors. It is understood that they are working for the Imperial Coal and Coke company, yet the movements are coincident with the frequent reports made recently by newspapers that the Great Northern would extend its line from Fernie to Michel, following the water grade of the Elk, thence across the mountains to the trail. It certainly looks as though there may be something doing soon.

Friday's Game

Of the game there on Friday evening the Calgary Herald says:

Last night's ball game was classed under the "punk" heading. The weather was bad, the attendance was nothing to get excited about; the ball itself was very much of the bush league variety in spots, and Calgary lost, 8-7.

A threatening sky kept a number away and though it was the first full innings game played since Edmonton came down, it was not a good game by a mile.

It was marred by many swiftness, in which both teams participated. It was marred by swiftness and swiftness registered by the Capitals. As umpire, Daniel Baggageman Barker did not start to his crown. He no doubt meant well, but his execution is open to criticism. He does not keep the players in hand. When Edmonton fouls in one of their famous team plays it is not necessary for an umpire to enter into a prolonged discussion of the case. Edmonton's famous team play starts like this:

Calgary is at bat and any old player gets on a base by a full block on the play. Then a Gleason person who gyrates around short stop rushes up to the umpire and says things with his hands, feet and voice. Then Mr. Yeazel takes the cue and out-protests the protesting Gleason. For a single-handed, all-round kicker, this Yeazel party is the goods. He can make more senseless kicks than any "teen players who are at present performing in the bunch grass league. He should have a job at Okotoks. Mr. Baggageman Barker should look at his check and dump him off at the first water tank. Everyone admires a player who stands up for his rights and sometimes tries to run a bluff—but a player need not kick on all the decisions all the time.

The game started off very bad for Calgary. Edmonton pitted up six runs off eight hits, an error and a hit by pitcher. Then it was decided that it was Crist's night off and Mullins, who was working in Thursday's game, was put in. He had one bad innings and allowed three hits, and Calgary went up in the air for a short time and three runs came in, making Edmonton nine.

But the visitors also had their bad spasms. Calgary got four in the second and three in the fourth. This was not "Dad" Vining's fault, for he only allowed seven hits during the game, but there were things happened just the same.

Calgary blanked their first, though Fat Moynie, who was again in the game made a two bagger.

Edmonton started out strong, when Winchester made another of his long hits and perched on third. Happy Wiley singled him in. The gentle Yeazel fanned. Dobson singled and Howard brought Wiley in. H. Dobson went out from Rochon to Mahaffey.

In Edmonton's second, Grady started on a hit by pitcher which he might have avoided. Vining followed by a single. Gleason gave Westrosg a fielder's choice, which nipped Grady at the plate. Winchester fouled out. The house Wiley again singled out to Painter's lawn, but he missed it, and the runner made second and scored. Gleason and Vining. Yeazel singled and scored Wiley. Yeazel then made for second, and Ford's peg was poor and the runner was home. F. Dobson singled, but Howard put the side out on a ball to Crist.

But Calgary was good for another four. Donovan singled, stole and got to third on Gleason's error. Mahaffey walked and stole. Painter singled, scored Donovan and then stole. Watson bunted and was safe on Dobson's error. A passed ball let in two more runs. Crist went out at first.

Mullins had been warming up, and as it was evidently Crist's day off he was sent out to left field in Watson's place. His work was very nice for four innings, four men coming up in each, and only two hits. A double play figured in one. Gleason had got on first by waiting. Winchester came up and tried a sacrifice. It was. The ball went down to Moynie, who caught the batter at first, and Gleason tried for third. Mahaffey had the ball over to Moynie in time to complete the play.

Calgary got three in the fourth. Mahaffey sent a hot fly to Winchester who dropped it, and though he picked it up in time, overthrew first, and Mahaffey made the half way house and stole third. Painter was out on a foul. Crist fanned. Mullins walked and stole. Ford was hit and a passed ball let Mahaffey and Mullins in. Moynie singled Ford in. Westrosg walked. Rochon was the third man out, on strikes.

Edmonton took the lead in the seventh on three runs made in a very poorly played inning. F. Dobson made a two base hit and was in on Howard's single. H. Dobson sent a fielder's choice which nipped Howard. Grady made another great which was fielded in to Ford, who had to leave the plate to get it, and to sell the ball to Mullins who covered, to try to stop H. Dobson from scoring. Dobson came into the pitcher rather hard and Mullins made a hostile demonstration which was not very popular. Vining singled. So did Gleason and Grady was in. Winchester fanned and Wiley went out from second to first.

There was no more scoring. It looked like runs for Calgary in their half of the ninth, but there was nothing to it, and the Caps were it, 9-7.

Edmonton Ball Team
(With apologies to Toronto Star)
The team was playing rotten ball; it really seemed a sin
To get the public at the gate and rake their money in;
But through the clouds of black despair
hope soon began to gleam,
When Mr. Rouke proceeded to get some Irish on the team.

They might have known it long ago,
before they started out,
It takes an Irish man to hit, of that there's little doubt.
The hitting game is where they shine
we have a sort of hunch.
It's just as easy for the Celt to hit the ball as punch.

We know that every Irishman would sooner fight than eat,
And when it comes to biffs and swa's
no Celt ever knows defeat.
The Irish for a scrap, we say, for hitters in a pinch.
You put some Irish batmen up, and Faith! the things a cinch.

Maloney is an Irishman, so is First Baggaman Cronn,
The O' from off of Grady's name—to drop it was a sin.
And Vining, too, 's another one, you bet your boots on that.
While Dobson's got an Irish heart beneath his Irish hat.

Doc Till is Irish, too, and surely knows his biz.
We have our doubts of little Tait,
but still we guess he is.
McGhee has got an Irish heart beneath his Irish pelt.
Howard, too, we rather guess, is very much a Celt.

Th's almost uses up the list, but we would here explain
That they are not in not the fault of those who now remain.
And we believe they recognize the duty of their lives
Is to repair their carelessness by picking Irish wive.

Sure this would make it all serene.
Beside we do not chaff,
Because the baseball player's wife, she is his better half.

This makes it look unanimous, let hope with gladness gleam,
There's nobody but Irish on the Edmonton team.

Of Interest to Farmers

(From the Farmers' Sun.)

There are 75,000,000 sheep in the Argentine and 19,000,000 in New Zealand, says the Irish Homestead. Yet the latter country exports as much as the former. This is due to the ravages of a peculiar disease in the Argentine, called lumbria. Investigations for a remedy are going on.

The Shorthorn cow that does not give enough milk to keep its calf is a wrong advertisement for the breed.

Few people realize the great importance of the National Live Stock Records' work that is being gotten into shape at Ottawa.

Reports from southwestern Wyoming says the Sheep-Breeder, are to the effect that thousands of sheep are dying from eating black greasewood, which proves fatal by causing bloating at this time of year. One prominent Utah stockmaster, it is claimed, has already lost 25 per cent. of a flock of 10,000 grazing in the Big Sandy country.

The Dominion forestry farm at Indian Head will be enlarged from a quarter to a half section.

A farmer near Greenwood plowed up a piece of seed that had been in pasture for twenty years, and the mustard is still vigorously alive.

At a sale of Angus cattle in Iowa, 35 head aggregated $12,105, being an average of nearly $346. The highest price was $2,425, for an Erica bull.

A writer in one of the farm papers likens the pace for a good bunch of cattle on the market, to the movements of the hired man toward a well-laden dinner table at the first hint of the dinner horn. Is it a forcible simile?

Dr. Hucho, representative of the Agricultural Department of the German government, who is on an official visit to Canada, declares Canada is by far the best agricultural country he has yet visited. He has traveled over a goodly portion of the globe.

Butter, thoroughly washed so as to be free from buttermilk, will not be troubled with "mottling." Churning at rather low temperature and continuing only until the butter has reached rice grain size, washing twice with water at from 35 degrees to 45 degrees F., and salting and working as usual, will give butter free from mottles.

The rules given below were prepared specially by one who has been nearly fifty years in the poultry business, and if they are followed the result will be eggs at the lowest cost and at all seasons, says E. C. Stearns.

1. Do not forget that each hen is an individual; that no two hens prefer the same food; nor eat the same quantity; in fact, a flock of hens will eat more some days than during others. There is no rule or fixed quantity for feeding as the work must be learned by observation.

2. Keep the hens at work; this is absolutely essential to success. When the hens run after you for food at all hours of the day it denotes that they are fed too much and are too lazy to work at scratching.

3. Never feed three times a day. Feed morning and night, the morning meal to be rather too little than too much. At night give a full meal.

4. After the morning meal, and at noon, if preferred, give one gill of millet seed; scattered far and wide or in litter to make them scratch and search for the small seeds; to which both fowls and chicks are very partial.

5. For sixteen hens, in the morning give one pound of cut bone with no other food, and a quantity of corn or wheat at night for the first day, say Monday. The next day give one pound of cut clover, scalded, in the morning adding a gill of linseed meal and a gill of bran; at night give half a pound of cut bone and a pint of wheat or corn. Always scatter the grain. The third day give half a pound of cut bone and a pint of millet seed, scattered, in the morning; at night a mess of cut turnips, or beets, half a peck, sprinkled with half a pint of bran. The fourth day return to Monday's ration.

6. The proportions given above may be varied to advantage sometimes. For instance, the bone may be reduced to one-half and cut clover or roots substituted. Wheat may be allowed one night and corn the next, while to change to buckwheat, barley or oats in place of wheat or corn will always be desirable.

7. In summer, for hens on a range, half a pound of cut bone to sixteen hens at night is all the food they require, as they usually come up with full crops.

8. Large hens, like Brahmas, eat more than small Leghorns, but the main point is not to overfeed.

9. Weigh one or two selected hens every week. If they are increasing in weight reduce the grain.

10. When feeding cut bone use the lean meat adhering thereto, but remove the fat whenever possible.

11. Cut clover and cut roots will always be found excellent substitutes for grain; and bone, clover, and roots are the cheapest and best foods that can be used.

Whitford News

Whitford, July 16.—Mr. Maywood preached his farewell sermon here a short time ago and has gone to be pastor of the Methodist church at Vermilion City. His sermon was a forceful call to his hearers to the duties of Christian living and citizenship. Mr. Maywood is a young man of talent and his powers concentrated should be of signal value to the church militant. During his pastorate here he had the pleasure of seeing a new Methodist church built and in use at Andrew. He has the best wishes of many friends for continued success.

A short time ago the Whitford S.S. teachers conducted a rally Sunday school service. The pupils acquitted themselves well and the attendance was increased. All communities that are blessed with some who are willing to undertake the arduous unpaid work of conducting Sunday schools for the spiritual welfare of the young, owe conductors thereof a debt which cannot be computed in dollars and cents.

Mr. Kingley, the new Methodist preacher has arrived and has a new work here.

Diphtheria which has appeared to be of a mild type has made its appearance in this district.

Whitford Lake fairly swarms with fish these times. Many a table is graced by native specimens of the hilly tribe.

In every direction improvements are being made in the main road running to the C.N.R. towns—Vegreville, Mandare and Chipman.

All through the Russian settlements churches are either built or building. The churches are there though there may be only one service in three Sundays.

The government census-taker for the nearest division of the Russian district is busy.

Crops are looking splendid everywhere and harvest promises to be a record one.
